RACES AND BALL GAMES

Will Be the Chief Attractions—Every Section of County Will Send Exhibits—Every Day Good.

The best program ever arranged has been completed for the Fair to be held next week. Tuesday will start off with two races—one for Bedford County horses and a colt race for 3-year-olds and under. The first performance by the Monte Myro Troupe and Mile Lamont's trained cockatoos will be given on the platform opposite the grand stand. The baseball game between Bedford and East Freedom will be called promptly at 2 o'clock. Band concert by the Pavia Band.

Wednesday—Three Races

2.25—Trot $200
2.30—Pace and Trot 200
Running Race—1/2 mile heats 100

Baseball—Bedford vs. Saxton. Both teams are strong and a good game can be expected. All free shows going on during the afternoon in front of the grand stand. Many horses have been entered and the races on this day will be as good as any of the week. The Pavia Band will give another concert.

Large exhibits of live stock in all classes will be found at the Fair this year. The directors have heard from all parts of the county and farmers and stockmen have written that they will bring more horses and cattle than ever before.

Thursday will be a busy day and persons should come early so as to see all the exhibits before the amusement program starts. The races will be as follows:

2.19—Pace and Trot $200
2.25—Pace and Trot 200
Running—1/2 mile heats 100

Some of the best horses in the state, as well as from Maryland and West Virginia, have been entered. The third baseball game of the week will be played by Bedford and Everett. Don't fail to see this game.

There will be something going on all the time. Free shows on the platform in front of the grand stand between each heat of the races. A part of the free attractions, the "Trained Australian Cockatoos," were secured by the directors especially for the entertainment of the ladies and children and you will not be disappointed in their performances as they do all kinds of wonderful acts that you would not think possible of any bird. The famous Osterburg Band will give their first concert this day of the Fair.

Friday—The last day—will be as good as any of the other days. One of the important features of the program will be a grand parade around the race track of all live stock on exhibition. The stock will all be judged and premiums awarded on Thursday and ribbons given the winners. This exhibition will be worth going to see aside from the other part of the program. The parade will form on the track, headed by the Osterburg Band, at 12:30 o'clock. Be there to see it. Three more fine races:

2.20—Trot $200
Free For All—Trot and Pace 200
Running—1/2 mile dash 100

All free performances going on between each heat of the races. The last game of baseball will be played by Bedford and Centerville. This game will be one of the best of the week and any lover of baseball should not fail to see these two teams play. Another band concert by the Osterburg Band.

The two bands and the Bedford Orchestra will give a concert on the Public Square each evening of the Fair—Tuesday evening, the Pavia Band; Wednesday evening, the Bedford Orchestra; Thursday and Friday evenings, the Osterburg Band. Take a week off and visit the Fair. Help make the Bedford County Fair one of the best held in the state.

Samuel S. Gephart

After an illness of several months at the home of his sister, Mrs. William Brice, Sr., on West Pitt Street, Samuel S. Gephart of Toledo, O., passed away at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, September 13, at the age of 59 years, four months and four days.

He was born in Bedford Township and was a son of Rev. William and Margaret (Phillips) Gephart. Surviving him are his wife, who was Miss Blanche Schnably, and two children, John and Frances. Also three brothers and three sisters: William C. Gephart, John of Kansas City, Mo.; John of Luzville, Mrs. Levi Shaw of Cumberland, and Mrs. William Brice and Mrs. Abram Barnhart, of this place.

Deceased was a painter by trade and for the past 15 years resided at Toledo, O., where he was employed in the finishing department of an automobile factory. He was a member of the Methodist Church for many years.

The funeral services, conducted by Rev. William V. Gano, were held at the Brice home at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Interment at this place.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED

Burglars Loot Safe of C. P. James at Rainsburg.

Monday night the general store of Charles P. James at Rainsburg, in which the postoffice is located, was entered and the burglars succeeded in carrying away about $500 in cash, checks, notes, etc. The rear door of the store was broken in, the outer door of the safe opened by the combination, the inner door by an explosion of nitro-glycerine, and the entire contents taken. The cash drawers were found in the yard and papers were widely scattered.

Mr. James, being tax collector, had funds belonging to the borough and also to the Rainsburg Lodge of Odd Fellows. A deposit of $300 ready to send to the bank in the morning, judgment and bank notes amounting to over $260, about $15 in change, money order books and stamps, legal and insurance papers, and Lodge and Borough papers comprised the booty. Six stamps were left in the safe. The rural carrier's mail sack is missing and this, in all probability, was used to carry the plunder.

Mr. James' loss is heavy and it is hoped the perpetrators of the deed will speedily be captured.

Rush C. Litzinger, Jr.

Rush C., only son of Rush C. and Katherine (O'Connell) Litzinger, died on Monday, September 12, at the home of his parents on East Pitt Street after an illness of only a few days. Death was caused by a convulsion following acute nephritis.

The little fellow was born at this place and was aged four years and five months. He was a bright and particularly attractive child, possessed of a cheerful disposition, and a favorite with all. Four sisters are left—Marie, Katherine, Margaret and Anna.

The funeral services were held Thursday morning in the Catholic Church, conducted by Rev. Father Downes. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the community in their loss.

Mrs. Harriet Cantner

Mrs. Harriet Cantner died at her home in Everett on September 6 at the age of 75 years, 11 months and 23 days. Deceased was a Miss Myers and was born at Fort Loudon, Franklin County.

Her husband, Jacob Cantner, died a number of years ago and an only son, Samuel, passed away about three years ago. She had been a resident of Everett for over 40 years, was a faithful member of the Methodist Church, and was held in high esteem.

Rev. J. W. Trimmbath conducted the funeral services, which were held last Thursday afternoon. Interment in the Everett Cemetery.

Mrs. Herman Rohe

Mrs. Herman Rohe, a former Everett girl, died suddenly at Altoona on September 9 of tuberculosis, aged 25 years. She had just come from Youngstown, O., and was making preparations to take up housekeeping, her husband being employed as a boiler-maker.

She was Miss May Nycum, a daughter of Albert and Elizabeth Nycum, both deceased, and resided in Everett until four years ago, when she was married to Herman Rohe and moved to Ohio. Two brothers and four sisters survive: Simon of West Virginia, Charles of Altoona, Martha of Youngstown, O.; Mrs. Daisy Smyers, Pearl and Elizabeth, of Everett.

The body was taken to Everett where services were held in the Baptist Church Monday afternoon, Rev. H. R. Barnes officiating. Interment in the Everett Cemetery by the side of her only child.

Mrs. James B. Barnsdollar

After a long illness from asthma, Mrs. James B. Barnsdollar died at her home in Everett at noon on Wednesday, September 14, in her 67th year.

A daughter of the late John B. Alexander, she was born in Well's Valley on February 24, 1843, and on May 4, 1880, she was married to James Barnsdollar of Everett. After the death of her husband in 1885 she moved to Fairfield, Ia., returning to Everett last spring.

The following brothers and sisters survive: W. Scott and Miss Harriet Alexander and Mrs. Thomas Sloan, of McConnellsburg; Horace B. Adams, Neb., and W. A. Alexander of Everett. Rev. M. G. Clayton conducted the funeral services, which were held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Interment at Everett.

Mrs. Scott Yont

At her home in Pleasant Valley, Bedford Township, Elizabeth, wife of Scott Yont, passed away on Thursday, September 8, at the age of 68 years and 17 days. Death was due to paralysis.

Deceased was a daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth (Wertz) Moses and was born near this place. She was married to Scott Yont, who survives. Five children were born to them, all preceding their mother to the world beyond. One brother and one sister survive—George Moses of near Bedford and Mrs. John Koonitz of Cessna.

She was a member of the Pleasant Valley Lutheran Church, where the funeral was held last Saturday morning, the services being conducted by Rev. J. W. Lingle. Interment in the graveyard adjoining.

Maine Goes Democratic

Victory Includes Governor, Two Out of Four Congressmen, Majorities in Both the Senate and House Which Insures a Democratic Successor to U. S. Senator Hale and the Election of Democrats as Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Auditor General and Commissioner of Agriculture.

Hardly a Republican oasis was left in Maine when the tremendous Democratic storm swept over the state on Monday. Not only the state, but towns and counties went over to the long-exiled victors, who gain elective and appointive offices not taken note of in the first hours of jubilation.

Complete returns of the vote for Senators and Representatives gave the Democrats substantial majorities in both branches of the Legislature, which at the beginning of the new year will elect a United States Senator to succeed Eugene Hale, a Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Attorney General and Commissioner of Agriculture.

The new Legislature also probably will be called upon to carry out the declarations of the Democratic party platforms of recent years and resubmit to the people the liquor prohibition amendment to the Constitution and to repeal the Sturgis liquor law enforcement act.

According to the unofficial complete returns the Legislature will have a Democratic majority of 36 in joint ballot. The Senate will consist of 21 Democrats and 10 Republicans, while the House will have 88 Democrats and 53 Republicans.

The last Legislature consisted of 122 Republicans and 60 Democrats, the Republicans having a majority of 15 in the Senate and 47 in the House.

One District in Dispute

Practically complete returns on the vote of the state for Governor give Col. Frederick W. Plaisted, Democrat, 73,644, and Governor Bert M. Fernald, Republican, 64,912, a plurality for Colonel Plaisted of 8,732 against a plurality of 3,064 for Governor William T. Cobb, Republican, four years ago. The total vote of the two leading parties Monday was 138,056. Four years ago it was 130,790.

Doubt still exists regarding the result in the Fourth Congressional district, Congressman Frank E. Guernsey of Dover, the Republican candidate, and George M. Hanson of Calais (Democrat), each claiming victory by a small plurality.

Guernsey claimed his re-election by 200 plurality. Hanson disputes this claim. Two years ago, when Guernsey was opposed by Hanson, his opponent this year, his plurality was 3,507.

Complete returns gave Asher C. Hinds (Rep.) a plurality of 734 in the First district. A recount may be held.

The Second and Third districts will have Democratic Congressmen, D. J. McGillicuddy of Lewiston succeeds Congressman John P. Swasey (Rep.) in the district which Nelson Dingley, of Dingley tariff fame, formerly represented, while Samuel W. Gould of Skowhegan will be the successor of Congressman Edwin C. Burleigh.

Mrs. Mary Koonitz

After an illness of only three days, Mrs. Mary Koonitz passed away at her home on Spring Street Sunday morning, September 11, in her 77th year.

She was born at Pleasantville on December 20, 1833. Her husband, Israel Koonitz, died a number of years ago. Deceased was the mother of fourteen children, nine of whom survive her, as follows: Levi of South Fork, Simon of Clearville, Kate of Philadelphia, Frances of Parsons, W. Va., Henrietta of Beaverdale, Mrs. Annie Miller, Gertrude and John E. of Johnston, and Emma at home. She also leaves four sisters and brothers: Mrs. Sarah Hammer of Pleasantville, Jehu and James Allison and Mrs. John Hassinger, of Johnston.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon in the Pleasant Valley Lutheran Church, Bedford Township, Rev. J. A. Eyer conducting the services. Interment in the Pleasant Hill Reformed graveyard at Imbertown.

Mrs. Sherman Clevenger

Mrs. Emma Clevenger, wife of Sherman Clevenger of Crystal Springs, died on September 6 in the Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, to which institution she had been taken that day. She was aged 39 years, nine months and 25 days. Her husband survives.

Funeral services were held in the Christian Church Saturday morning, Rev. Thomas Garland officiating.

MAINE! MAINE!!

leigh (Rep.), who has represented the Third district for the last 18 years in Congress.

Knocked Out State Boss

Burleigh was the real State Republican boss, and his defeat shatters the machine, so that Maine Republicans can look forward to a new deal in the party.

Late returns only emphasized the extent of the Democratic victory. Besides electing Frederick W. Plaisted of Augusta to the Governorship over Governor Bert M. Fernald of Portland, securing Congressmen in the Second and Third districts and a good majority in the Legislature, as indicated by earlier tabulation, the Democrats carried a whole or part of 13 out of 16 counties for county officers. Figures show that the Democrats elected 13 of the 16 high sheriffs in the state. In five of the counties Democratic sheriffs were re-elected, in eight other counties the Democrats gained the office.

Plaisted Gets Appointments

Control of the Legislature is of more importance in Maine than in some of the other states, because under the Constitution a number of the highest state officers are appointed by that body. These are Treasurer, Attorney General, Secretary of State and Commissioner of Agriculture.

Among the appointments which rest with the new Governor are: A Judge of the Kennebec Superior Court, a State Commissioner of Industrial and Labor Statistics, a State Commissioner of Highways and Warden of the state prison. All these offices are now filled by Republicans.

The next Legislature will have full charge of redistricting the state.

Governor Fernald carried but three of the 20 cities in the state. With 21 out of 31 State Senators and 86 out of 151 Representatives, the Democrats control both branches of the Legislature and are within 15 votes of a two-thirds majority in joint convention.

S. B. Herschberger Injured

Last Saturday night, between 8 and 9 o'clock while S. B. Herschberger was returning to his home from Cessna he was struck by a bicycle ridden by Floyd Ickes and knocked senseless to the ground. He was walking in company with his brother Frank and son. The night was dark and Mr. Herschberger's companions say they neither heard nor saw the approaching wheel until the accident occurred.

Mr. Herschberger is still in an unconscious condition and his friends fear he will not recover. He is one of the county's substantial citizens.

She was brought home and since August 21 had been critically ill. At times her suffering was intense but she bore it patiently and battled bravely for her life. On Sunday, September 11, she reached the age of 25 years.

HAS TO PLEASE ALL

Newspaper Must Cater to Tastes of All Kind of People.

An editor in the west comes out with the following, which will apply to any other point of the compass as well as the west:

A newspaper has all classes of readers to please. What one will look for in the paper, another will pass over without notice; and what one will pass over as uninteresting, will be read with the keenest interest by another. And so it goes. The editor is either too full of politics or not full enough; too religious or too irreligious; too sporty or too slow; too much for social news or he does not give social events prominence enough in his columns; too lengthy or too brief, etc. The average editor plods along, trying to please all and too often none; but generally he has a pretty hard road to travel and succeeds only to a degree.

If the average citizen who reads the daily paper would stop just a moment and think it over he will most likely be more lenient in his criticisms of the paper which is delivered at his door with the regularity of the rising and setting of the sun.

But as long as there are all kinds of people there will be all kinds of tastes to satisfy and please, and the proper attitude to strike in publishing a newspaper is not far different from that of the grocer, the drygoods man or the man in any other kind of business, viz: use the judgment which experience in the business has taught you to be the best. There can always be found, in every branch of business, those who can tell the other fellow all about how to do it, but who make the greatest kind of a failure at running his own affairs, with which he should be most familiar. If a failure at that with what success would be the other fellow's job about which he knows nothing.

A Reliable Medicine—NOT A NARCOTIC

Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says Foley's Honey and Tar saved her little boy's life. She writes: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." Ed. D. Heckerman.

The Harbortress

Ab! there be souls none understand; Like clouds, they cannot touch the land.

Drive as they may, by field or town; Then we look wise at this and frown. And we cry, "Fool!" and cry, "Take hold

Of earth and fashion gods of gold!" Unanchored ships, they blow and blow,

Sail to and fro, and then go down In unknown seas that none shall know.

Without one ripple of renown. Poor, drifting dreamers sailing by They seem to only live to die.

Call these not fools! the test of worth Is not the hold you have on earth. Lo! there be gentlest souls sea-blown That know not any harbor known. Now it may be the reason is They touch on fairer shores than this.—Joaquin Miller.

A REVOLUTIONARY HERO

Our Venerable Friend Writes About Colonel Powell.

Editor Gazette.—I notice in your paper of August 26, as copied from the Baltimore Sun, an article concerning Col. Levin Powell of Virginia who died and was buried in the old burial ground in Ye Old Town of Bedford.

Colonel Powell came to see his brothers, Joseph and George Powell, in Black Valley, this county; remaining with his brothers several days, in company with a Mr. Kercheval, a Presbyterian minister, visited old Fort Bedford, not having been there since 1783. On his arrival there he was taken sick and in a short time died. His brothers, Joseph and George, and Joseph's oldest son Archibald, being notified of his illness, were at his bedside when he passed away and had him laid away in the old graveyard.

This is history as obtained from your correspondent's mother, who was the youngest daughter of Joseph Powell and a niece of Colonel Powell. I visited his grave, with my mother, sixty-five years ago and had the marble slab, which had been broken, repaired and replaced, the marble tree which is near the grave was but a small sapling at that time.

Colonel Powell was the youngest of eight brothers and six sisters. He served in the army from 1776 to 1783, having passed from Fort Pitt through old Bedford in the latter year to Winchester, Va., where he was discharged.

I will give you an instance that occurred between Powell and the "Father of our Country," George Washington. After the excitement of the War of Independence was over Washington and Powell had some land trouble. Powell was a candidate for the Virginia Assembly and on the day of election it had been rumored that Washington would not support him. The latter was at the voting place when the former appeared, dismounted from his horse, and approached the voting place. After scanning the list of candidates and calling out the names of the persons he voted for, he came to candidates for the Assembly. It had been said that in consequence of the difference between him and Powell, that he would not support Powell, but after a moment's hesitation he called out "I vote for Col. Levin Powell." When he retired from the window his friends approached him and said, "Why, General, we understood you would not vote for Powell." "I didn't, I voted for principle."

J. H. P. Adams.

Shawnee White Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Jacob Wilmet, Lincoln, Ill., found her way back to perfect health. She writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble and backache and my appetite was very poor at times. A few weeks ago I got Foley's Kidney Pills and gave them a fair trial. They gave me great relief, so continued till now I am again in perfect health." Ed. D. Heckerman.

Sanitary Hints

Wash your hands! Wash them often. This is the advice of the health board in commenting on food and the handling of it.

Some dirty hands are clean and some clean hands are dirty, and dangerously dirty. This means that some dirt is harmless and other is not. Most often it is the invisible dirt that is dangerous to both life and health.

The farmer's hands may be grimy from the soil of the farm; the plasterer's hands may be covered with lime and mortar; but in neither case would the dirt be dangerous.

The germs of disease are everywhere. It is believed by doctors that unclean hands spread more typhoid than is carried by flies. Thousands of cases have been traced directly to cooks, cook's helpers, bakers, dairy people, and those who have handled or prepared food with unclean hands—hands that were polluted with the germs of typhoid.

Scientists say that if a dozen men and women dip their hands into a basin of water it will be found to be swarming with colon bacilli. And these average hands are those that handle the bread, meat, fruit, pastry, and, in fact, everything we eat and drink.

Woman loves a clean, rosy complexion. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood, clears the skin, restores ruddy, sound health.

Coat Hangers

Excellent coat and shirtwaist hangers can be made by cutting the hoops from small barrels—those called half-barrels—in two. Wind folds of cambric or fancy material on these and fasten a strong loop in the middle from which to suspend. An advantage these have over many of the bought ones is that there is no angle to crease the garment.

"I say, Blossom, how do you pronounce c-a-s-t-o-r-i-a?" "Why, Castoria, of course; how else could it be?" "Well, the doctors pronounce it harmless."

FALLING HAIR

Can Easily Be Stopped; Also Dandruff and Itching Scalp.

If Parisian Sage doesn't stop falling hair, itching scalp, and eradicate dandruff in two weeks, F. W. Jordan stands ready to refund your money without argument or red tape of any kind.

Parisian Sage will put a fascinating radiance into any woman's hair in a few days.

Susanne Calahan, of Hotel Royal, Bucyrus, Ohio, on March 25, 1910, wrote: "Mother's hair began to come out very badly and her scalp was so sore it was very hard to do anything for it. Parisian Sage proved a GRAND SUCCESS every way. Her hair stopped coming out, dandruff all disappeared, soreness all left the scalp and her hair is coming in again very nicely." Large bottle 50 cents at F. W. Jordan's.

Household Notes

Never mix old and new milk if you wish to keep it.

Washing soda will remove grease from cooking utensils.

Eggs poached in milk instead of water make a delicious dish.

A little sugar added to the salted water used for basting roast beef will give it a rich brown color.

A milk bottle should always be washed on the outside before any milk is poured from it.

When bamboo furniture becomes dingy, wash with water that contains a great deal of salt.

Stains made by medicine and liniment may often be removed with strong ammonia.

A teaspoonful of pulverized alum mixed in a cup of stove polish will cause it to give a brilliant finish.

Ammonia water, after it is used for washing, may be used to water house plants, as it is a good fertilizer.

One or two onions, eaten with bread and butter, a short time before retiring, will act as a sedative and induce sleep.

Fatigue that prevents sleep may often be relieved by rubbing the body gently with a towel wrung out in hot salt water.

A little kerosene on a soft, wet cloth removes all dirt and grease from painted kitchen walls and from the gas range.

In patching, if embroidery hoops are used to hold the cloth with which you are patching in place, basting is unnecessary.

Fresh fruit stains may be removed from linen by holding the cloth over a bowl and pouring boiling—not merely hot—water over them.

Dry flannels quickly after washing, and when nearly dry press with a moderately warm iron, and they will shrink but little.

A few drops of oxalic acid should be added to water in which white stockings are washed to remove the stains caused by shoes.

When an ink blot occurs and the eraser is not at hand, use a bit of the emery board which comes to manicure the hands.

Many a basting can be dispensed with if you keep on hand a box of wire fasteners such as are used for keeping papers together.

Stick to Your Business

Stick to your legitimate business. Do not go into outside operations. Few men have brains for more than one thing. To dabble in stocks, put a few thousand dollars in a mine, a few more into a factory and a few more into an invention is enough to ruin any man. Do not be greedy. Be content with fair returns. Make friends. All the money in the world is not worth so much to you as one good staunch friend.—Henry Ward Beecher.

NASAL CATARRH

Henry L. Britton Says it is Easy to Get Rid of.

"My head, nose and glands leading to my eyes and nose were stopped up and swollen, I tried several so-called catarrh cures, but Iyomei, used thoroughly, did the trick. There is nothing too good to say in favor of Iyomei. It cured my nasal catarrh."

—Henry L. Britton, Frost St., Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Iyomei (pronounced High-o-mey) cures catarrh, because it gets where the germs are, and destroys them. It is made of Australian eucalyptus, mixed with other healing antiseptics. When breathed over the irritated and inflamed membrane, it gives relief in two minutes.

Used regularly for a few weeks it will build up and heal the germ-infested membrane and drive out catarrh.

If you own a small Iyomei pocket inhaler, you can get a bottle of Iyomei at druggists everywhere, or at F. W. Jordan's for only 50 cents. If you do not own a Iyomei inhaler, ask for a complete outfit, the price is $1.00. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, croup or sore throat or money back.

ACCUSED OF A DUAL LIFE

Husband Faces Peculiar Divorce After Many Years.

Johnstown, Pa.—Startling developments are contained in an application for divorce which Mrs. Edward J. Hughes of Lilly brought against her husband, a wealthy business man of that place, in courts at Ebensburg last week.

It is declared that in 1881 Mr. Hughes was lawfully married to one Sally Stewart, the present complainant, and that no children have been born to them. Since their marriage they have lived peaceably, and until recently apparently happily, at Lilly. Some 20 years or so ago, it is averred, there came to clerk in Mr. Hughes' store Ettie Martz, whose home is said to have been in the vicinity of what is now Glen Campbell, Indiana County. Relations are said to have arisen between the girl and her employer, which resulted in one family being cared for by him in Hollidaysburg.

The children's mother became insane and it was necessary to provide for the children, Hughes did so, it is said, by telling his legal wife of a destitute family of fine children, of which he had learned in Philadelphia, and suggesting that they take them in and care for them as their Christian duty. This Mrs. Hughes agreed to and the children became part of the childless household in Lilly.

Soon, through the children themselves, it is believed, Mrs. Hughes learned the facts, and at once engaged Attorney John W. Kephart to conduct an investigation, which has resulted in the actions above mentioned. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes are each about 60 years old.

Mr. Hughes when interviewed at Lilly of the action taken in court refused to give the public any statement. He said, however, that he did not desire to offer any formal statement, nor could he say whether or not he would oppose the action for divorce. The story as printed above was read to him, and he did not question its general correctness.

"It is a situation which is unfortunate," said Mr. Hughes, "but it is also one which looks blacker on the surface than if all the facts were known. I have some humanity in my soul, and whatever I have done in this matter has been what I believed the manly thing. If the world does not look at it so, I cannot help that. I might save myself some criticism by laying bare everything, but I choose not to do that, and will suffer whatever blame is heaped upon me. I am satisfied it will all come right in the end, and that then as now I will have the approval of my own conscience."

WHEN MERIT WINS

When the medicine you take cures your disease, tones up your system and makes you feel better, stronger and more vigorous than before. That is what Foley's Kidney Pills do for you, in all cases of backache, headache, nervousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness and general weakness that is caused by any disorder of the kidneys or bladder. Ed. D. Heckerman.

EVER A SONG

There is ever a song somewhere, my dear,

There is ever a something sings away;

There's the song of the lark when the skies are clear,

And the song of the thrush when the skies are gray.

The sunshine showers across the grain,

And the bluebird trills in the orchard tree;

And in and out, when the eaves drip rain.

The swallows are twittering ceaselessly.

There is ever a song somewhere, my dear,

Be the skies above or dark or fair;

There is ever a song that our hearts may hear—

There is ever a song somewhere, my dear—

There is ever a song somewhere!

There is ever a song somewhere, my dear,

In the midnight black, or the mid-day blue;

The robin pipes when the sun is here,

And the cricket chirrups the whole night through.

The buds may blow and the fruit may grow,

And the Autumn leaves drop crisp and sore;

But whether the sun, or the rain, or the snow,

There is ever a song somewhere, my dear.

There is ever a song somewhere, my dear,

Be the skies above or dark or fair;

There is ever a song that our hearts may hear—

There is ever a song somewhere, my dear—

There is ever a song somewhere!

—James Whitcomb Riley.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so?

The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

ALL WRONG

The Mistake is Made by Many Bedford Citizens.

Don't mistake the cause of backache.

To be cured you must know the cause.

It is wrong to imagine relief is cure.

Backache is kidney ache.

You must cure the kidneys.

A resident of this vicinity shows you how. Mrs. D. F. Bartholow, Water Street, Hyndman, Pa., says: "It was several years ago that I used Doan's Kidney Pills but I have not forgotten what this remedy did for me. I was in poor health for some time and I suffered greatly from pains in my back and sides. I had chills and was often dizzy. Reading a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply and began their use. They brought me prompt relief and as I continued taking them, I steadily improved. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many other people and I have never known of a case where they have ever failed to prove of benefit." (Statement given October 12, 1907.)

AFTER TWO YEARS.

Mrs. Bartholow was interviewed on November 16, 1909, and she said: "Doan's Kidney Pills effected a complete and permanent cure in my case and I have had no need of kidney medicine during the past two years. I willingly confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, as I know that they are deserving of all the praise given them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Mental Chemistry

In an article on "Mental Chemistry," Orison Swett Marden, the New Thought writer, says:

"That man is truly great who can rule his mental kingdom, who at will can master his moods; who knows enough of mental chemistry to neutralize a fit of the blues, to antidote any evil, poisonous thought with the opposite thought, just as a chemist neutralizes an acid which is eating into the flesh by applying an alkaline antidote."

And then he makes the optimistic prophecy—

"The time will come when we shall find that it is just as easy to counteract an unfriendly, disagreeable, vicious thought by turning on the counter-thought as it is to rob the hot water of its burning power by turning on the cold water faucet. We shall be able to regulate the temperature of our thought as the temperature of water. If the water is too hot we simply turn on the cold faucet. If we feel our brain heating up with hot temper we shall simply turn on the love thought, the peace thought, and the anger heat will be instantly counteracted."

Your kidney trouble may be of long standing, it may be either acute or chronic, but whatever it is Foley's Kidney Remedy will aid you to get rid of it quickly and restore your natural health and vigor. LIFE

Let me but live my life from year to year.

With forward face and unreluctant soul,

Not hastening to, nor turning from the goal;

Not mourning for the things that disappear

In the dim past, nor holding back in fear

From what the future veils, but with a whole

And happy heart, that pays its toll To Youth and Age and travels on with cheer.

So let the way wind up the hill or down;

Though rough or smooth, the journey will be joy.

Still seeking what I sought when but a boy,

New friendship, high adventure, and a crown,

I shall grow old, but never lose life's zest,

Because the road's last turn will be the best.

—Henry Van Dyke.

Daily Thought

I shall not pass this way again; Then let me now relieve some pain, Remove some barrier from the road, Or lighten someone's heavy load— A helping hand to this one lend, Then turn some other to befriend.

Reynolds, Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor, recalls that the "Pennsylvania Blacksmith," with no organization back of him, received about 25 per cent of the Republican votes of this county as a candidate against him for the nomination for Congress, the sound of the anvil must not be pleasing to his ears, neither "the burning sparks that fly" to his eyes.

THE USE OF BLOODHOUNDS

The numerous robberies of recent years in this county, as well as crimes committed, have suggested to many citizens the necessity of purchasing a pair of bloodhounds to run down those who rob as well as criminals.

The breaking open of the safe of Postmaster James at Rainsburg and the stealing of money and stamps and valuable papers has revived the advocacy of the purchase by the county of the man-hunting dogs, and The Gazette is heartily in sympathy with the movement, for we believe it would be a great safeguard to life and property in this county.

The keen scent of these dogs will take up a trail any time within 48 hours after the time of the commission of a crime or a robbery and there is not a point in the County of Bedford that could not be reached within two hours after notice is received in this day of automobiles, and by use of the telephone systems the sending of word to Bedford need not be delayed. The running down of a single thief would deter others from theft and crime as long as they know that bloodhounds are kept in readiness to take their tracks. The expense of their keeping would be small to the county and the influence of their presence would certainly be for good.

THE MAINE ELECTION

There was an election in Maine this week and the Democrats won a decided victory. For the first time in 30 years that New England state, rock-ribbed in Republicanism, has elected a Democratic Governor, two out of four Congressmen, a third being in doubt, a majority of the State Legislature and a majority of county officers throughout the state.

This victory means much. The carrying of the state of the Plumed Knight, Czar Reed, and Dingley of tariff fame, in so decided a manner, is a crushing blow to Republicanism. It means that the Republican party has broken down under the load it has been carrying—the domination of trusts in whose favor tariff laws have been made that they might, in return, furnish campaign funds. It demonstrates the truth of Lincoln's expression: "You cannot fool all the people all the time." The Republican party has in these latter years been a party of promises and pledges, made only to be broken. No wonder John M. Reynolds joined it; and it now looks as though the G. O. P., like Mr. Reynolds, will be unable to carry "its home ward, its home town and its home county," and going further, lose in the next national fight, for the election in Maine, though her voters are few in comparison with many other states, of a Democratic Legislature insures the election of a Democrat to take the place of Eugene Hale in the U. S. Senate, which reduces the majority in that body by two. There seems to be a hand writing upon the political wall, and when the inscription is interpreted to the party of trusts and combines by the voice of the people expressed at the polls, it will sound much like the warning to the Babylonian king at his celebrated feast.

AS OTHERS SEE HIM

Among the humors of the Pennsylvania campaign is a speech at Pittsburgh by John M. Reynolds, the Machine's candidate for Lieutenant Governor. In this speech he praised the Payne-Aldrich tariff as the cause of the good crops and boasted of the achievement of the Republican party in abolishing slavery. Before he left the Democratic party, in the better prospect of office by joining the Republicans, he was an extreme devotee of free trade. If he ever spoke a word then against slavery it was in so low a whisper that his nearest neighbors never heard it. But they often heard him denounce the Republicans as "negro worshippers." He has now merely borrowed the jargon of his new associates. But the Republicans of Bedford County are quite familiar with his notorious political perfidies, and they are likely to give a fresh proof of it by another overwhelming vote against him in November.—Philadelphia Record.

Two Sorts of Paint Makers

Why don't Devoe make paint, as many others do, to go three-quarters as far, or two-thirds, or half, or a third, or a quarter?

Mr Aaron Higgins, Plainfield, N. J., always used 15 gallons of paint for his house; Devoe took 11.

There are two sorts of paint: all paint, true paint, strong paint, full measure; and part paint, false paint, weak paint, short-measure.

The paint-manufacturers are two sorts: Devoe and the rest.

Double Birthday Party

The home of E. R. Koontz at Kootzville was the scene of much gaiety last Thursday evening when the friends and relatives of Miss Ruby Harclerode and Raymond Whetstone sprung a happy surprise for them, it being the birthday of each of them. There were present sixty-nine persons, both old and young; the younger portion indulged in games suitable to the occasion, while the older ones busied themselves in preparing a repast. After partaking of the splendid luncheon, the young folks again sought the meadow land to prolong their sport until the midnight hour was reached, when all repaired to their homes, feeling that the time was well spent in cultivating the social side of their being.

let us examine them. Our system of examination does not require the use of Drops or Drugs.

CHILDREN'S EYESIGHT

The backwardness of some children in their studies is more often due to some defect of vision than any other cause. School has begun and any child who complains of headaches while studying, or has a red, inflamed condition of the eyes, should be brought in on this trip and examined, it may be the means of preserving the vision for all time.

YOUR EYES

Eyes are an every day possession. They don't seem very wonderful until you lose them. It doesn't make the affliction any easier to bear, to know that you are probably to blame for not consulting a competent specialist in time, that the right glasses at the right time would have saved them.

There is nothing in which delay is so dangerous as in eye troubles. When you consider that you can get along fairly well without any senses except sight, you will understand how important it is to take no chances with it.

SYMPTOMS OF EYE STRAIN

You may be certain that your eyes need immediate attention when continuous looking at small objects tires them; when you cannot read long without discomfort; when you must hold your book less than twelve inches from your face, or when your arms seem to require lengthening; when you habitually frown or partly close the eyes to see objects more distinctly; when things grow indistinct, or swim before your eyes; when your eyes ache, smart or water; eyelids become inflamed, or when pains occur in the eye-ball, temples or forehead; when you have constant recurring headaches or unaccountable nervous derangements.

CUMBERLAND FAIR

October 4-7 Will Eclipse All Previous Efforts—Aeroplane Flight.

The exhibition of the Cumberland Fair and Agricultural Association for 1910, the dates—October 4, 5, 6 and 7—will include new attractions and will reflect the marked advancement made in the past few years by the progressive promoters of the agricultural fair.

The Cumberland Fair will have many big things. It will have aeroplane flights daily; it will have a great cattle and poultry show, a splendid exhibition of domestic arts, hippodrome and equestrian feats and, not least, an unexcelled race program, the purses aggregating nearly $8,000. While the fair is advertised for four days it will be continued into Saturday, for which some of the most exciting events of the week are reserved.

It is aimed by the association to secure only the best horses for the races and the applications for entry blanks have far exceeded the numbers received at the close of entries heretofore.

Among the entries are horses famed in the Grand Circuit. On Tuesday, October 4, children under 12 years, will be admitted free. The railroad facilities will be better than ever. Excursions from Altoona, and also on other roads.

Will You Chance It?

¶ A well-known Pittsburgh man born in Bedford died last week. Sick three days! Cut down suddenly! ¶ Assume that he had $10,000 of life insurance. What a comfort to him in the hour of death! What a burden lifted from his family! Assume that he died without life insurance, his small estate involved, his wife to face the stress of life alone. ¶ You see the contrast. Are you insurable? Are you insured? Will you chance your family's comfort after you are gone?

¶ Decide the matter with yourself today—then see me.

Sitting in the Shadow

One evening when Luther saw a little bird perched on a tree root there for the night, he said: "This little bird has had its supper, and now it is getting ready to go to sleep here, quite secure and content, never troubling itself what its food will be, or where its lodging on the morrow. Like David, it 'abides under the shadow of the Almighty.' It sits on its little twig content, and lets God take care."

DR. DIXON DEFENDS DAIRY FARMERS

Declares Milk Often Becomes Polluted After Leaving Their Hands on Way to Consumer.

SANITARY LAWS ARE BROKEN

"Don't let's put too much blame on the farmers," says State Health Commissioner Dixon in discussing the question of a pure milk supply, a problem that is troubling so many municipalities throughout Pennsylvania.

"As an old farmer myself who has led the reapers around the wheat field, swinging a cradle and then in the evening milking my share of the cows, I am naturally favorable to the dairy farmer, but it is the close study of actual conditions that convinces me that the first disease germs often, perhaps most frequently, get into the milk after it has passed out of the farmer's control.

"The farmer appreciates more today than ever the necessity of keeping milk clean. He knows that if it reaches the market sweet and pure the demand will be increased. He is up against a difficult task to make money out of his milk dairy when he has to constantly buy new cattle to take the place of those that have gone dry, become sick or died.

Dairyman's Problems.

"He must produce or purchase food for them, keep up the stable, pay his help, constantly replenish his supply of pans, buckets, etc., and haul this milk over all kinds of roads, through all sorts of weather and then receive for all this 4 or 4½ cents a quart from the dealer.

"The milk often begins to receive pollution on the railroad, when an attendant takes off the lid of a milk can, helps himself to a drink and then replaces the lid, drippings of milk which have reached his lips going back into the can.

"Does this sound like an exaggeration? Let me cite you a case. I remember a baggage-master who once called upon me for medical advice. I found him suffering with pulmonary tuberculosis. When I advised him to drink plenty of milk he informed me that he was drinking a great deal of it. He said he hauled milk in his baggage car and that he was in the habit of drinking out of the lids of the cans.

"At the stations and along the streets the milk dealers often purchase from each other. The purchaser sticks his finger into the milk and then into his mouth to determine the sweetness and then into the second can until he tests as many cans of milk as he proposes purchasing.

Unsanitary Methods.

"Only a few days ago a gentleman came into my office to tell me he had just witnessed his own milk man hand a street cleaner a drink of milk contained in the lid of his can and then replace the lid.

"I have witnessed over and over again milk men collect bottles from their customers, poke the index finger in the mouth of one and the thumb in the other to carry the bottles to his wagon. Trusting that they had been properly cleansed by the housewife, the bottles were at once refilled, caps taken out of a pocket which also contained a handkerchief and then these bottles of milk were delivered to the next customers. It is not worth while to enumerate other instances to make my point clear, that is, we must not confine ourselves to the dairy farm in looking for conditions that render milk impure. Our municipalities throughout the state will have to keep their eyes open to the way in which the dealers and others are handling the milk after it has left the farmer's care."

Rainsburg

September 15—The borough schools opened on Monday with a good enrollment. The teachers are Miss Edith Martin of Andersonburg, advanced room, and Miss Mabel Kryder of Salona, primary.

Miss Thelma Lessig is in Bedford spending some time with her cousin, Miss Mildred Hershberger.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. James and Mrs. Anna Slemmer and little son, of Cumberland, are guests of relatives at this place.

Clarence James, who is employed in Pittsburgh, is home for a vacation.

Miss Rebecca Filler returned Sunday night from a visit in Altoona.

While in Bedford the horse driven by her brother frightened and ran off, dragging the young man some distance. He escaped with a number of bruises and an injured hand.

Rev. Harry Dollman, who so ably filled the pulpits on the Rainsburg Lutheran Charge during the summer, left Wednesday morning to take up the work of his Senior year at Gettysburg Seminary. We wish him success.

William L. Byers was a Bedford visitor last Saturday.

Harry C. Metzler is the new Chief Burgess of our town. He was appointed by the court this week.

Miss Grace Filler has returned from Baltimore, having accompanied her sister, Miss Nell, to the Johns Hopkins Hospital two weeks ago. She reports Miss Nell improving, which her many friends are glad to hear.

There was considerable excitement in our town Tuesday morning when it was learned that the postoffice and James' store had been robbed. Mr. James' loss is heavy but we hope the thieves will be captured and the property recovered. Anyone finding the mail sack will kindly leave it at the postoffice and oblige the carrier.

Paul Cessna, son of W. A. Cessna of this place, left on Wednesday for Gettysburg College, where he will enroll as a student.

William E. Shoemaker and wife, of Bedford, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Barbara Shoemaker, today.

The Clean Slate

Are you one of the girls who are given to moping, to looking fearfully into the future, or to lamenting the past? There is no surer cure for these unhappinesses than to cultivate the clean-slate habit, which is carried out in this way: Live a day at a time, and start each morning with a fresh record to be made, which must not be muddled with the blurs of yesterday nor the possible blots of tomorrow.

Lesson XII.—Third Quarter, For
Sept. 18, 1910.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xxii, 15-22, 34-46—Memory Verses, 37-39—Golden Text, Matt. xxii, 21—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This lesson is found in Matthew. Mark and Luke and tells how by the Herodians and Sadducees and Pharisees they sought to entangle Him in His talk. Luke says that they sent forth spies who should feign themselves just men that they might take hold of His words that so they might deliver Him unto the power and authority of the governor (Luke xx. 20.) Consider who He was and who they were. See the Creator watched, criticised, hated, rejected by the creatures whom He had made and to whom He gave life and health and all things, and yet He patiently suffers it and would love and bless them if they would only let Him.

The flattering words of verse 16 are nothing new, for we read in Ps. lxxviii, 36. "They did flatter Him with their mouth, and they lied unto Him with their tongues, for their heart was not right with Him. * * * But He, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity and destroyed them not." As He perceived their wickedness and asked for a piece of money and from it answered their question they marvelled at Him and held their peace and left Him and went their way (verse 22, with Mark and Luke). Do you covet such wisdom, not that you may be wondered at, but that He may be glorified? If so, remember that Stephen was so filled with faith and power that they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spoke (Acts vi, 8, 10). It is indeed true what they said of Jesus at this time. "Thou regardest not the person of men," so that we also may be filled with His spirit and wisdom if we will. It ought to be said of every teacher. "Thou art true and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man" (verse 16). For it is also written by the Spirit that our attitude should always be "not as pleasing men, but God, who trieth our hearts." And again, "If I yet pleased men I should not be the servant of Christ" (1 Thess. ii, 4; Gal. i, 10). When questions arise about the right or wrong of this or that, let us first ask, Whose image do I bear? and that ought to settle it easily. As the redeemed of the Lord, the world, the flesh and the devil have no just claim upon us, and it is our privilege gladly to render all to God, whose we are. They left Him and went their way (verse 22). We are too apt to do this. Let our prayer be, "Teach me Thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path because of mine enemies" (Ps. xxvii, 11).

The same day came the Sadducees with a question which they thought would perplex Him, but His reply to them was, "Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures nor the power of God" (verse 29). Dr. Schofield's note is worth quoting: "Jesus' answer gives the three incapacities of the rationalist—self deception (Rom. i, 21-22), ignorance of the spiritual content of Scripture (Acts xiii, 27), disbelief in the intervention of divine power (1 Pet. iii, 5)." Note how our Lord emphasizes the great truth of resurrection (30-32) and see the plain teaching of Job ix, 25, 27; Isa. xxi, 18; Dan. xii, 2, etc. See also how our Lord says that Ex. iii, 15, teaches not only life apart from the body, but also the resurrection of the body, and note how He indorses the story of the burning bush, which is today ridiculed by the wisdom of this world (Mark xii, 26; Luke xx, 37). In verse 31, in the words "Have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God?" we have our Lord's indorsement of Rom. xv, 4. " whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning." Unless we hear God speaking to our souls as we read His word we have not read with profit and should read until His word takes hold of us with power. In verse 30 His word that in the resurrection we shall be "as the angels," or, as in Luke, "equal unto the angels," is explained by His saying concerning marriage.

The next tempter is a lawyer scribe who wants to know which is the first or great commandment in the law. To him Jesus quotes Deut. vi, 4, 5; Lev. xix, 18, summing up the Ten Commandments in love to God and to man and adding, "On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets" (verse 40). "There is none other commandment greater than these" (Mark xii, 31). Mark records the scribe's reply to Jesus and that Jesus said to him, "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God." He seemed to understand the truth, but went away to continue to establish his own righteousness, not submitting to the righteousness of God (Rom. x, 2-4). As to this summary of the law see also Rom. xiii, 8-10.

And now Jesus has a question for the Pharisees as to whose Son the Messiah is to be, to which they promptly reply, "The Son of David." Then come from our Lord the quotation from Ps. cx and the question. How can He be David's Son since David by the Spirit calls Him Lord? No one could answer, and this shut them up for the present. As a man Jesus was of the house of David (Rom. i, 3). As God He was David's Lord—truly a man, truly God, both the root and the offspring of David (Rev. xxi, 16).

THE PRIZE CUCUMBER

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press

On the 15th day of June of a certain year, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when he was hoeing in his garden, Deacon Amos Gray straightened up to rest his back and then and there decided that he would marry the Widow Spooner. He had been a widower and she a widow for three years. She lived near him in the village, and they had known each other before marriage.

Her garden needed hoeing. He set about it. It gave him a sort of sense of proprietorship. It was her garden now, but after awhile it would be his. He had been at work for a quarter of an hour when the widow came to the open kitchen door and discovered him and called out:

"Why, deacon, this is truly good of you. I was just wondering who I could get to hoe my garden."

When he had been at work an hour the deacon uttered a few grunts and sighs and came to anchor on the step. The widow was looking fine for a woman of forty. She was robust and in good health. The services of a doctor wouldn't be needed for many a long day unless she fell down the cellar stairs. And she looked like a woman who would esteem it a privilege to build the kitchen fire every morning for four weeks after the groundhog had come out and seen his shadow. Yes, she was all right, and the deacon opened his mouth and said:

"Widder Spooner, me an' you have known each other a long time."

"Yes, deacon."

"Long before either one of us was married."

"Yes."

"And I guess we allus sorter liked each other."

"Yes."

"And now Abe is dead and Martha is dead and we are lonesome, widder. Why shouldn't we?"

She waited, but he stopped right there. There was Sister Nancy. Hadn't he better sound her and see how she was going to take it? Yes, that would be the wisest way. He therefore began to talk about the drought and other things, and after working for another hour he went home. He didn't speak to Nancy—not on that subject. She was trying to get supper with green wood, and she was hopping mad. He split up a dry board for her and blew up the fire, but he had lived long enough to know that when a woman gets real mad she must have at least a day to get over it. Next morning Nancy was so chipper that he decided to take his chances without speaking to her on the subject.

In the afternoon the deacon did some more hoeing, and there was another talk on the steps. Yes, the Widow Spooner well remembered his taking her to spelling school in the old days. She remembered their sliding hills together; she could recall the red apples he used to give her.

"Happy days them was, widder—happy days," he sighed.

"Yes, they were."

"But now you are a widder and I am a widower."

"Yes."

"And both of us goldurned lonesome."

"I am sometimes very, very lonesome."

"But we needn't be, widder—we needn't be. S'posin'?"

"Well?"

He couldn't go ahead. The thought had just struck him that she might have a wooden leg or a stiff knee and would make that an excuse for not doing the washing and ironing. He could dimly remember hearing that she had fallen from an apple tree and broken a bone somewhere. He would wait and make inquiries. It thus came about that he went home again with nothing decided. Now, the deacon was a great county fair man. He always had an exhibit of chickens, eggs or vegetables. He believed that if anything could save this world from the fate of Sodom it was the Methodist religion and a county fair held every October. At that very moment he was raising a prize cucumber to exhibit. It was only a foot long now, but it would be a rod in length before time for pulling.

Deacon Gray let a week go past without seeing the Widow Spooner. He got up one morning and stepped outdoors to inhale the fragrance of the air before sitting down to breakfast. About the first thing his eyes lighted on was a woman standing over his prize cucumber. It was the Widow Spooner. She had an ax on her shoulder, and her jaw was set.

"Why, widder, what does this mean?" asked the deacon as he sauntered out to her.

"You have the same as asked me to marry you," she replied as she spat on her hands and flourished the ax.

"But not right out."

"But near enough. Deacon, when is it to be?"

"I can't say. What are you doing with the ax?"

"In two weeks, deacon, or I chop your prize cucumber in two!"

"Lordy, woman!"

"Do I chop?"

"You wouldn't go to chop that cu—"

"Two weeks, deacon, or three or four? Speak quick!"

"Waal, say about three?"

And three it was, and, though Nancy raised a fuss and had to be carried out and dumped over the fence, the couple have lived happily together for years.

The Midsummer Hat is Adorned With Pink and White Peonies.

Peonies in faint rose color or white flecked with rose, set among their own leaves, make charming hat decorations.

The newest waterproof hats are of a sailor shape covered with silk and decorated with good sized bows of patent leather. In some models the crown is surrounded by a plait of the same, and in others instead of the bow there are roses made of leather.

Very dainty are some of the hand embroidered Dutch collars that are not more than four inches deep. Handkerchief linen is the material generally used. In the shops these collars—the cheapest of them—sell for $1.49 and up.

IN FASHION'S MART.

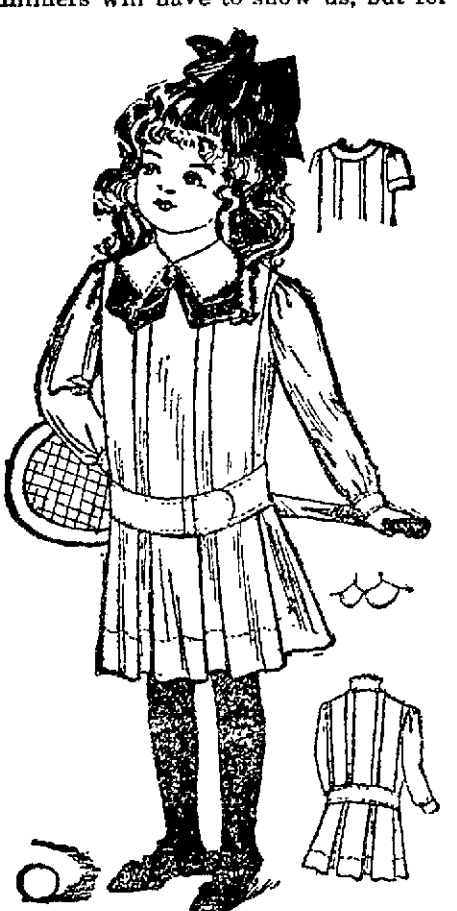

Cut of Dress Neck Lends Distinction to Costume—Children's Garments.

The cut of the neck and shape of the collar have much to do with the distinctive character of the costume.

Children's garments, many of them, are made with kimono sleeves. That style of sleeve, by the way, has again taken its place on women's gowns, though it is apt to appear in the form of an added cap with shoulder seams defined.

PIANOS

Are you coming to the Bedford County Fair? If so, you will find in the exhibit building the largest and most attractive line of pianos, including several of the most popular automatic player pianos, ever exhibited in the history of the county.

A treat to the general public and to show my appreciation of the volume of business done in the past, and as a further advertisement of my line, I propose to offer during the four days of the Fair two fine pianos to the highest bidders, through sealed bids to be placed in my hands, on any of the four days of the Fair. Bids to be opened on Friday at 1 p. m. and the highest bidders get these pianos. This is a fair and honest proposition. Don't miss it. You fail to get a bargain if you fail to bid. Don't forget the days—Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of Fair week.

I will also show a nice line of reliable sewing machines. Come to the Fair, see my line, and be convinced. Special music furnished at my booth during the entire week. Come and hear it.

A. SAMMEL.

ESTRAY NOTICE

About July 10 a flock of bronze turkeys came to my place. Owner can get same by proving property and paying expenses. Charles E. Anderson, Cessna. Sept. 9-31
